Did We Learn Anything?

The body of Benio Mussolini, who was executed April 29, 1945, has been turned over to his widow for burial in a cemetery at his brithplace. Millions of children 12 years old and younger never heard of him.

They should know what he represented when he strutted on the world stage as a "sawdust Caesar." His career was an object lesson in what happens when absolute power in government causes absolute corruption.

Mussolini started out to be a reformer-patriot in Italy at a time when a weak monarchy was in danger of being toppled by Communists. He won power, then more power, until he had absolute power.

When that happened, he turned into a mad dog capable of hurting anyone who stood in his way. But the menace he presented to Italy, to Europe and ultimately to the world was not recognized unil he first had been coddled and admired as an international wonder boy who had brought order out of chaos and made even the Italian trains run on time. It was easy for his admirers, even those in America, to believe that the public terror and the personal evil he membodied were a reasonable price to pay for Fascism, which the Fascists & d was better that Communism.

Fascism? There are children who never heard of that, either. It means absolute obedience to The dictates of the state, which is the creature of the dicaor-he holder of he absolute power that corrupts absolutely. Fascisum is the same thing, in effect, as Communism.

Unrepentant Italian Fascists showed up for the burial of Mussolini's body. It cannot be said with any assurance that the world learned anything from the rise and fall of the "sawdust Caesar."

Not on Wheels Alone

Turnpike operation is still in the experimental stage, despite the experience accumulated by operators of toll roads.

The Ohio Turnpike Commission has been accumulating some particularly troublesome experience with restaurant service on its first operating venture. Conditions finally became so unsatisfactory that one of the three enterprises which had contracts for restaurant service was released. The Turnpike Commission, itself, now is filling in for this private operator.

But it wants to be relieved as soon as it can find a satisfactory bidder for the restaurants it is trying to operate - and that is where experience is being accumulated at a rapid Satisfactory bidders are as hard to find as satisfactory restaurants on the Ohio Turnpike. It has become a vexing problem for the Turnpike Commission, because travelers, as well as armies, travel on their stomachs. The Turnpike is losing business that it wants to recapture by establishing a reputation for good food as well as a good road.

A traveler on an ordinary road blames himself if he gets a bad meal; he is free to pick and choose. But a Turnpike traveler blames the Turnpike Commission, which sets requirements and enforces them.

Striking Up The Bands

Nothing is taken away from the seasonal glory of King Football by putting in an enthusiastic boost for the other element in gridiron pageantry - the bands that supply musical background for the games and the be tween-halves drills.

The schools they represent are every bit as proud of their bands as they are of their teams. Here in Ohio there are still echoes of a joke that used to be told wryly in off years when Ohio State failed to field a winning team - that it always fielded a winning band.

The bands already have reached winning form, undoubtedly due to their freedom from restraints on off-season practice. There will be early - season games in which football teams may show signs of raggedness, but bands are expected to step lively and execute their assignments from the first whistle. King Football would be a monarch without a colorful court, if the bands disappeared. Fortunately, there is no danger of that. They are in demand. They have "made the team."

Number, Please

The same knuckleheads who say it is dirty pool for traffic policemen to use unmarked cars to check up on highway recklessness will hate an idea being tested in Geauga County. The ating influence in the oil and gas sheriff has deputized citizens in each township to take down license numbers of cars driven across yellow lines in no-passing zones.

None of us is so patient that he has not ground his teeth in fury when a death-defying driver pulled off a dangerous antic at the risk of our lives as well as his own. We have wished we dared to run him to a standstill, pluck him out of his car and scorch his ears. But we had no right to do it, because there had been no accident.

It would be a real pleasure to turn in the license numbers of the people who try to cause our deaths prematurely with guided missiles made in Detroit.

Education and the Milk Shed

Harold Craig, the "brain of the farmlands" instead of taking his $104,000 jackpot winnings on "Twenty-One," a top video quiz program decided to go forward in the cause of homereading, a zest for knowledge and wider recognition of the fact that in many a cornfield and cow barn there lurks a threat to college educations.

During the summer this lad, who really resides in North Hebron, N.Y., a village of 35 people, just outside Granville, toppled every 'egghead" sent in against him. College faculty members, authors, and Oxford students had proved pushovers.

HE HASN'T taken his loot at this writing and deserves billing not only among such as the Van Dorens of the quiz world but among such gamblers as "Bet A Million" Gates and "Philadelphia Phil."

We are less astounded by the brains shown on higher type quiz shows than by the reckless spirit of the pro gambler.

Our records reveal no crap shooter, horse player, poker player or gin rummy genius going for $20,000 a point, yet this farmboy, like so many others on TV programs, went for it with the nonchalance of a fellow risking a nickel in a game of marbles.

When $84,000 ahead he cheerily risked a round of questions which would have cost him almost half his winnings.

This reflects an amazing trend of the day and puts some conservative people in a position where they make the notorious plungers of history seem bush-leaguers.

MR. CRAIG COMES of humble folks, has always had to work hard and would probably run buckety - buckety from an dice game, roulette wheel, "red dog" operation or even 'bingo." Yet he takes a chance on losing $20,-000 and more in the twinkling of an IQ.

They do not in any sense constitute a permanent cure, but often bring striking relief of symptoms for several hours at a time. It isn't entirely safe to take these antihistamines without direction. Unpleasant side effects have been found. Some people are made sleepy by some of the preparations and this can be dangerous in driving. Nevertheless, a great many people are tremendously helped by drugs and air conditioning and these measures have aided many thousands to survive the ragweed hay fever season much more comfortably than in the past.

Many people also get considerable relief by taking weak doses of pollen extract every day or so during the season. There are also drugs of the steroid class which are used with considerable benefit during the season.

Thus it is possible for most victims of ragweed fever today to get a considerable amount of relief one way or another.

'Got To Keep Winning,' Card Chief Says

ST. LOUIS (P) - "Milwaukee isn't cracking and we've got to keep on winning."

That's how Manager Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals feels about the National League pennant race now that his Redbirds have pulled up to within 41/2 games of the first-place Braves. That's the closest the Cardinals

LOSE UGLY FAT IN TEN DAYS OR MONEY BACK

Inspiration for this Lamb Supreme came from Hawaii.

Oriental cooking has been popular since the days of the explorers, and this combination is party fare, yet simple enough for a family dinner.

2 large green peppers, 2 cups teaspoos soy sauce, ½ cup vine-gar, 1-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup white yinegar (optional), 8 Maraschino cherries.

Cut each seeded, washed pepper into 8 pieces. Brown lamb in salted olive oil; remove from pan, will tell you, when you eat less, you want. This new product called DIATRON curbs both hunger & appetite. No drugs, no diet, no exercise. Absolutely harm-cherries.
